Class Poem

When the time comes to disband,
When we reach the parting of ways
It isn't quite the promised land
Of which we dreamed in other days.

The memories of the days gone by,
Which never more can we recall,
Now crowd upon us though we try
To stop the idle tears that fall.

But we must put away this sadness,
We must banish tears and gloom
And face our future with a gladness
As we leave the old classroom.

With ideals high, ambitions great,
As down the road of life we go;
We bow our heads before the gate
That is the peak of all we know.

MARTHA FISH

Farewell Song

CLASS OF '39

(Tune of "Gold Mine in the Sky")

Now the time has come for us to say adieu
To our friends and, dear old Cradock High, to you.

Just remember that the best of friends must part,
And perhaps this thought will ease your aching
heart:

O, those days of yore will come no more, we know,

But fond memories linger with us as we go,
And the tears will fall and we will surely sigh
When we bid adieu to dear old Cradock High.
"Thirty-nine," "Thirty-nine."

We can always cherish memories, class o' mine,
And we'll say "hello," though now we say "goodbye,"

When we meet again at dear old Cradock High.
"Thirty-nine," "Thirty-nine" . . . class o' mine.

MARY WILSTRUP

CLASS HISTORY

IN the year 1935 we walked into Cradock High School, proud that at last we could enter high school. That pride left us as we soon realized our position as lowly freshman. We had no class officers that year and we were under the joint supervision of Miss Wiley and Miss Codd. The year passed uneventfully and in June we at last became upper classmen.

Returning in September we gloried in frowning on the lowly freshmen. Among the chief "frowners" were the president of our class, Rudy Wheatley; the vice-President, Winfrey Arnold, and the secretary-treasurer, Charles Ferrell. Our sponsor was Miss Wiley. We settled down to studying after a few clashes with the freshmen and before we knew it June was here.

The third milestone had been reached and in September we decided that for our president we would like to have James Mills, for our vice-president Alfred Price, and for our treasurer Norma Harrell. Miss Byrd was our sponsor. The time slipped by until the great Junior-Senior held in May. It was a gala affair and the class was complimented on the success of the dance and on the excellent choice of an orchestra. Came June and with it the goal of everyone's ambition. We were seniors at last.

In September we came to school for our last term in C. H. S. We chose for our officers Gilbert Light as president, Buddy Jenson as vice-president, Audrey Kirkman as secretary, and Norma Harrell as treasurer. Miss Byrd was chosen sponsor and Miss Wiley co-sponsor. In October we had our Supreme Court, which was a very delightful occasion. After a hard session of deciding what kinds of rings, invitations and calling cards we should have, we passed the period of mid-term exams and then started on an arduous session of picture-taking. We selected the staff for our Annual and also our Hall of Fame. Came a senior dance and then the senior play, which was pronounced a success by all who saw it. The glorious Junior-Senior came in May and we were honored by the grand festival tendered us. Having gone to press in April, the Annual was issued in May and was acknowledged to be the best in the history of Cradock High School. We buried all our grievances at the Senior Burial and toasted our successes at the Senior Banquet in May. June has rolled around and now we are sorrowfully bidding adieu to our alma mater. We hope C. H. S. will continue to improve as it has done and, with this wish, we say good-bye to one of the grandest schools of our native land.

DONALD DUECKER.

CLASS PROPHECY

LET us look into the future. The scene is the class reunion in 1949. The reunion is being held in the large hotel run by Jimmy Day and his wife, Eleanor. As we enter we hear the sweet swing of Mercer Joyner's orchestra. The butler announces the guests as they enter. Phillip Duncan is now a successful truck farmer. We now hear a song from Lola and Martha Fish, singing with Joyner's band. Dolores Franz is now conducting the V. E. P. Co. cooking school at the Gates Theatre. Here come Don Duecker and Leonard Purdy, now owners of the Pole to Pole Airlines, Inc. Jimmy Buhls and Billy Lawrence, owners of the Fill Your Tank Gas Station, have just arrived. We now hear a solo from Clyde Kennedy, playing the trumpet in the orchestra. Here comes Audrey Cranfield, popular cinema star and her leading man, Floyd Light. The room is now filling. There is Flash Hoffer, pro-football player, and Virginia Wise, star comedienne, who is taking Gracie Allen's place on the radio. Geraldine Orr, who has written her third best seller, has just come in. Admiring the mural on the wall, we are not surprised to find that it was done by Jimmy Mills and Virginia DeLoache, famous artists.

Two famous dancers have just entered, Mildred Coley and Mary Williams. Telegrams of regret have been received from Elizabeth Manning, now a buyer in Paris, and Raymond Echols, who is a missionary in China. Who is that surrounded by those autograph seekers? It is Bill Burnham, American League "home run king." Doctor Thomas Comer and his colleague, Gilbert Light, have just arrived. Walter Freeman, Chief of the Forestry Service, has just arrived. Elwood Gibson, who has advanced brain surgery to such an extent, has just entered. Buddy Jenson, owner of the Freeze Ice Company, enters with Audrey Kirkman. Audrey is manager of the Bloomer Girls' baseball team. Richard Leach, an ensign in the Navy, and Elsie Taylor, a Red Cross nurse, have just arrived with Graham Lutz, also a Navy man. The Army is represented by Murray Kent Sylvester. Leroy Willey, a farmer in Deep Creek, has come in with Hugh Via, also a farmer. Joe Wise has just arrived. He has made a fortune in stocks. Dot Denson, who is clerking in Leggett's, Evelyn Lauer, who is married and keeping house, and Iris Hanbury, who is now half owner in the Famous Dress Shop, have just come in together. The floor show has just begun. Well, isn't that Norma Harrell and Marian Styron doing exhibition dancing? The next thing on the program is a solo by the famous concert violinist, Duncan George. Now entering are Edythe Whyte, famous model, and Peggy Warren, noted actress, escorted by William Etheridge, who is in the Coast Guard after attending the Academy. The nursing profession is represented by Janice Sherman, Marjorie Tyson, Elsie Bogan and Lula Via. Norma Ballance, Beatrice Skinner and Shirley Cousins are school teachers.

Look, there's Chrystal Gomer and her husband, David Nelson. Ted Taylor is busy taking notes. He is star reporter for the New York Times. Carl Sawyer, now a bus driver, enters with Joe Wright, who drives a milk truck. Kenny Wright—we have often wondered what he is doing—is in the real estate business. Let's see who is in this crowd. There is Alice Bartlett, an air hostess, and Marjorie Jerome, noted dress designer. There's Emily Euler, a buyer for Blumberg's. Betty Albrecht is doing portrait painting. Leading lady in a play now running its forty-first week is Mary Wilstrop. Ida Rolls is teaching dancing for Arthur Murray. Jean Blankenship arrives, escorted by Dippy Cohen. She now clerks in his corner drug store. Here is Dot Calhoun, who retired after winning the sweepstakes. Burnley Shiflett is now singing in the Palais Royale night club. Mary Daniel is head librarian of the Library of Congress. Plato Phillips has just arrived on the fire truck. He is now chief of the new Deep Creek Fire Department. Betty Ritter is playing on Audrey's ball team. Who is that coming in so late? Could it be Viola Domme? Viola, who always had the motherly way, is running a boarding house for college boys. Fillmore Irwin is lecturing on Astronomical Phenomena at the same college.

FOOTBALL

HOUR great backs behind a mighty line led the Cradock Admirals' 1938 football edition to an Eastern District Class "B" Championship, and a runner-up berth in the State race.

This team, with a varsity backfield consisting of "Flash" Hoffer, Dickie Leach, Buddy Jenson and Dinky Barkley, amassed a total of 280 points to the opponents' score of 84.

From flank to flank we possessed one of the best lines in Tidewater and gave only two scores by line-play.

Several games highlighted the season: South Norfolk, age-old rival, was humbled by a 13 to 0 defeat, while Al Hawkins' strong Suffolk Peanuts fared better with a scoreless tie.

In a driving rain, the Admirals fought valiantly, but lost to Fredericksburg. No college game could ever possess the color and thrill that this high school fracas offered. From the opening whistle to the end, both teams fought doggedly. Three passes were completed to spell defeat. These three aerial bombards were received in the closing minutes of the game.

As far as sportsmanship goes, no higher brand could have been obtained. Spirit, fight and fair play gave to Cradock High School one of the most colorful and powerful football teams of a decade.

BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL season started off with a bang this year under the able coaching of Miss Elizabeth Duke. Scores of non-experienced students turned out for practice, but as the drills grew longer and more strenuous the large group dwindled down to a faithful few who stayed on throughout the rest of the season, winning five out of six conference games and tying with Norview for the championship of Norfolk County. The schedule and scores of the past season were as follows:

BASKETBALL

IN its 1939 basketball conquest, the Admiral Five fared none too well. Injuries formed the basis and cause for a poor court season; however, the Cradock quint ended the season with seven victories.

The Maroon and Gold played out one of the toughest schedules in basketball history. Games with Newport News, Hampton, Wilson, South Norfolk, and Suffolk loomed high.

Several first rank basketball threats were developed through this strenuous cage season. Billy Cooper, Arnie Barrow and Buddy Lewis sounded warning calls on the hardwood. All first year talent, this trio should give the 1940 edition of the Admiral cage squad a flying start.

Big Jim Remington and Buddy Jenson offered the spark for this season's team. Remington is returning to the court next season, while Jenson is finishing up an illustrious athletic career when he graduates this year.

APRIL brought with it a snappy little baseball schedule. Cradock has never had outstanding baseball teams, but the boys and girls are always there fighting. We hope that they have a very successful season. The schedule is as follows:

April 11—Cradock at Great Bridge.
April 18—Portlock at Cradock.
April 25—Hickory at Cradock.

BASEBALL—1938

SPIRITS loomed high in the spring of 1938 when the call for baseball was sounded. Many boys turned out to form a team which all schools feared.

Led by Red Brown, Sandy Melvin and Buddy Jenson, the Admirals came out above average at the end of the season. The Maroon and Gold won six, tied one and lost three out of a schedule of ten games.

The hard-hitting Admirals kept the team out of many tough spots. The reserve pitching staff dealt the hardest blow, but the quick, sure-fire fielding kept the opponents at a safe distance.
